

Robert de Loura le Doux Bouvier-Cosmos

September 21, 1932 - October 1, 2015

Hampton – Robert de Loura le Doux Bouvier-Cosmos, 83, of Hampton, died Thursday, October 1, 2015. He leaves behind his sister, Margaret Williamson of Rochdale, Mass., nieces, nephews, and cousins. He was predeceased by his sister, Alexandra Quinn. Services will be private. Donations may be made to St. Mary's Center for Women and Children, 90 Cushing Avenue, Dorchester, MA 02125 www.stmaryscenterma.org.

Comments

“ I would love to connect with any of Mr. Cosmos' family members, to share some very serious love for him, from me and a bunch of my peers. Xoxoxoxo

Lilla Collins - March 11, 2018 at 05:51 PM

“ Robert,
I miss you a lot. I still have your voice recorded on my voicemail. It's you!! Your cousin Inez inez DeLaura - April 05, 2016 at 10:32 AM

“ I have never forgot Mr Cosmos' depiction of a chrysalis turning into a butterfly and many other crazy but fun things he did in our 5th/6th grade science classes. He kept it interesting and fun and here I am 35 years later still remembering it like yesterday. So sorry for your loss. He was a great teacher.

kristen getsie - November 03, 2015 at 06:02 PM

“ I will forever miss your charm, personality and optimism, Cosmo. I am a far better man for having known you. Thank you for making friends with me. God Bless You.
Andrew Gyorda
Hampton Falls

andrew gyorda - October 05, 2015 at 09:26 AM

“ Dear Roberto,
What wonderful memories you left me with! Thank you for being my friend, and for being family. I would never have met you, had you not gone to the Azores and simply wondered around admiring the beauty of Sao Lourenco. I miss your emails - I knew they would come to an end some day, but I was hoping it wouldn't be so soon. I know you are well... and I am grateful for you being in my life and in my memories... thank you so much for being you - funny, courteous, and above all thank you for calling me on the phone singing to me; playing music just for me; wishing me a happy birthday, a happy New Year, or a happy Mother's Day. You are truly a wonderful angel now and I am very grateful for having had you in my life... I miss you my friend.

Maria deSousa (Chaves)
Hooksett, NH

Maria deSousa (Chaves) - January 22, 2016 at 01:32 PM