“ Russell was such a special man. Not only a loving husband and father but with a sense of humor that never failed. Hard to believe but when he wasn't taking care of him family and golfing he had time to father one more – me! I fondly remember driving back and forth to the beach with him when I was young. All those talks we had. I'll never forget when Russell took me to dinner at Legal Seafood in Chestnut Hill to comfort me and give me advise as only a second father could do. He was loved by many and will be missed by all. I can hear him now saying “Hey baby...”
