“ Anita was twelve years old on her first visit to Memphis with her Dad and brother, Allen. During the visit she asked to stay with us. We offered to let her spend the following summer if she would work hard to save enough money to purchase a one way airline ticket and we would pay for the return. She agreed and did just that. We had a great summer with her in our family.

Anita was born on this earth with a compassionate side rarely seen in the Human race. Her ability to comfort those who were unable was inherent in her daily life. She had a tough outer skin but soft as butter on the inside. We will always remember the care Anita gave her mother through her final days. It was extraordinary! On one occasion while visiting and having lunch in a local restaurant mid-summer, her Mother began singing a Christmas Hymn. Before long our entire group joined in to the amusement of the other customers, some who joined in. Memories like that never fade. Anita will always be remembered by those lives she touched and to us, a great loss. We will never forget our wonderful cousin, She was one of a kind!
