“ Beautiful pictures she was a beautiful woman. Enjoyed going to her shop and poking around. She would take me to show off her gardens which she was very proud of. Sometimes she would invite me in for some tea and enjoy a nice chat. When I see the two red chairs in my family room I will always think of Carol and how I snatched them up in her barn. She will be missed and I always remember her out in her yard among the her many different items and how she would still at the time delivering pizzas. R.I.P. Carol you will be missed .

With deepest condolences, Shirley Bell

“ Carole was my friend and business associate. Her knowledge of antiques, especially furniture, was vast. She was generous in her education of novices like me and gave of her time willingly. I have never known anyone with a stronger work ethic. To me she embodied the pioneer spirit of America and certainly New England. Strong, intelligent, individual, proud and her own person. There will never be another like her. God bless you Carole. Dolores

“ i first met Carol over 2 years ago. I just started a new business selling antiques out of my van. One day i was driving by and i saw a barn sale sign. I decided to knock on the front door not knowing who may appear out of the woodwork. The door opened and this beautiful woman with a warm smile, sky blue eyes and silver hair all done up in Carol's style introduced me to her world. For me the connection was instantaneous and we soon became very good friends. I either saw her or spoke with her on a daily basis teaching me about the ropes of lifting without killing you back .i went on a clean out with her and saw a very large and very heavy hutch that we were going to remove from a home that required maneuvering down many flights of stairs. Carol gave me that determined, were going to do it smile. I was terrified. An hour later I had learned from the master if there is a will there is a way . The hutch was out and my back was no worse from the event. I couldn't believe we did it. The hutch found its home in Carols barn we sat and had lemonade. A good days work was done.

I remember Carol in her straw hat and weeding in her sunflower garden. I can still see her walking up to the garden in the early morning saying in her melodic voice "hello, how are you today!" We had so much in common: the love of birds, our passion for the ocean, flowers and face to face chats with no phones or computers between us. We both would rather play in the dirt. I could go on and on. I am sad to lose this beautiful woman but now she is opening up the door in heaven with her gracious and welcoming smile for all those who want to learn about the many many wonderful gifts she had.

I will miss you my dear friend.

“ Carole was a lovely woman. I loved visiting her to talk about decorating and buying piece or two for my home. She was a kindred spirit, I loved her deeply and I will miss her dearly.

PO

Dearest Carole passed away in the afternoon sun, on a beautiful day in May. Before her next Birthday but she may have wanted it that way. The sun was shining and she was surrounded by Friends and Strangers who appreciated her knack and passion for her barn and the wonderful finds people came to purchase. There were flowers and a yard full of all sorts of items. I know she was there in spirit, the birds were dipping and diving and flying all over the property maybe calling her home. A bunch of balloons flew from my hand to Heaven perhaps with her in tow. Her wonderful and amazing Son, J.P., gave Carole the best care. Solid, continual attention, striving for the most comfortable race to the finish line. He is a winner and whomever he chooses for a life partner will be a lucky one. Carole gave him all the tools to succeed in life and as long as he has his Jordans on, everything will be all right. I will miss you very much. Polly
