“ Bettiann Kathi, Sharyn and Holly, I am so sorry to hear about your loss. I know the Grandchildren and the rest of your family must be feeling Dan's physical absence from them as well. I have always loved my times with your family whether it was at the house in North Hampton or in Wolfeboro or even at my pool. I always enjoyed my interactions with Dan. I would love to be in touch with any and all of you but no longer have contact info. The following quote reminds me of your Dan- "Wherever a beautiful soul has been, there is a trail of beautiful memories." I hope this thought gives you comfort.

“ I have known the Donahue family since 1991 when I came to stay with them as an exchange student from the Soviet Union. Dan became my second father and I used to call him Dad. For me it was an honour to meet him and share just a short time with a great man Dan was. He did a lot for me and my family, we will always warmly remember him and I will cherish the lessons learned. Our prayers are with his close family. As we say at home, Lord rest his soul.

“ I learned of Dan Donahue many years ago from Joe Sawtelle who was a director on the Board of Olde Port Bank, when Dan was Chairman of the Board. Under his leadership Olde Port Bank always gave the "little guy" a break. When he had over 100 employees at New England Homes, a particularly brutal recession forced Dan to go on the floor and announce he could either lay off 30% of the workers or keep them all employed at 30% less pay. The choice was theirs. They so loved this man that everyone voted to work for 30% less. Well, two years later, when the recession had passed, with no fanfare, he gave everyone a Christmas Bonus equaling the 30% they voluntarily gave up for him for the past two years. That is the true measure of a leader.

“ The Donahue's were good friends of ours in North Hampton while I was growing up. Dan as I recall owned a business called "New England Homes" which built beautiful, manufactured homes, many of which dot our landscape and neighborhoods. I remember them erecting minister Bill McConnel's home in mere days it seemed to my astonishment, as I looked on from across on our house on Post Rd. I also recall the Donohue's owning a hotel on Boars Head at Hampton Beach. (I can't remember the name and forgive me if I am wrong on these details). One afternoon while swimming in the pool at that hotel while visiting with my parents, I did the unthinkable: that is, I ventured into the deep end while not quite knowing how to swim yet. As I started to flounder and go under, Dan (who was relaxing with my parents' poolside) jumped in and swooped me up, depositing me on the side like a whale saving its offspring. I will never forget that moment and feel I owe Dan my gratitude at the very least; for I would likely not have lived much less be writing this tribute had he not intervened. R.I.P and thank you from the bottom of my heart Dan; my sincere condolences to the Donahue family and friends. Dan was a great man and know he will be deeply and sadly missed. Sincerely, Geordie King-
