“ The death of a loved one is the most difficult thing we deal with. When we lose someone we love it throws us off balance and we are left with many emotions including anger, pain and denial; and we know that our lives will never be the same. Slowly we adjust and we find the strength to go on with our lives. Our love never dies, we just learn to live without our loved ones. May you find comfort in the love of family and friends and by sharing the many memories of your loved one.

My sincere condolences.
