

Donald E. Noseworthy

September 16, 1943 - June 6, 2024

Stratham - Donald E. Noseworthy, 80, of Stratham, passed away, with his loving wife by his side, on Thursday, June 6, 2024. He was born in Plymouth on September 19, 1943, to the late Greta (McCutcheon) Noseworthy.

Raised in Plymouth, Don attended Plymouth High School. Following high school, he went on to study at Plymouth State University, where he earned a bachelor's degree in business. He began his career in education at Pinkerton Academy in Derry. He went on to attend classes in the summers at Shippensburg University, where he earned a master's degree. He was offered a position teaching accounting at Hesser College, and it was at Hesser College that he would meet his wife, Linda (Wallace). Their first date was a production of Elizabeth the Queen, and the couple have been inseparable ever since.

Don will be remembered for his "bound and determined attitude." He was very physically active, enjoyed running, and was an extremely avid biker, biking between 20 and 30 miles a day.

Left to cherish his memory are his loving wife of 24 years, Linda, and son Stephen Noseworthy of Manchester. He also leaves his brother Jim Noseworthy and wife Jackie. Also left behind are Linda's children Jennifer Bissell, Kristen Audet, Patrick Dailey, Steven Dailey, and Kathleen Nicolas, and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

A funeral service will be held for Don on Saturday, June 22, 2024 at 2 PM in the Newfields Community Church, 71 Main Street, Newfields NH 03856.

“ So sorry to hear about the passing of Professor Noseworthy. I had him for accounting classes in the late 80s at Hesser College in Manchester. He was a great inspiration for me in continuing my education, then career in accounting! He was so smart, kind and funny. I am glad and grateful to have had his wisdom and guidance as a young person trying to find my way. Sending my sincerest condolences to his family and friends. Laurie Brown
