“ I can't believe you've been gone almost 7 years. I'm still single still in pain. David and Austin have gotten so big hard to believe they will be 18 years old in 3 months. They have changed so much Erin Austin now looks like you David looks more like me. I cannot understand what happened but I understand that's some more within your heart you needed rest. It never gets easy and I can never accept it I just exist.

“ Hello my Angel tomorrow is Thanksgiving I am so grateful and thankful that I was your husband, the father of your sons. I want you to know you gave me more love in the time we were together, then most people would get in 10 lifetimes. I miss everything about you, I will love you until my last breath, and on my day I will be with you again and we will never part. I love you my sweet baby. Your husband David.

“ I am Cathys sister, when Cathy called me today to tell me about Erin's passing needless to say I was devastated, shocked and so upset that we were just finding out about this today.....thank you Paul for finding us..... I was flooded with so many memories of us growing up.....Erin was a sister to us, we used to call each other cousins. I know we lost touch over the years but if we would bump into each other we would just pick up right where we left off.....to Erin's daughter Amber, her husband, her beautiful boys I am so sorry for your loss Erin was a very special person. To Erin's family: mom Carol you were a second mother to us I can't imagine what you and the family are going through, Susan, Laura, Colleen, Paul and Terrance again I can't tell all of you enough how sorry I am.....Erin is going to be missed but she will always be looking over you.....
I will miss you very much Erin.....rest in peace.....

“ Its been 2 years Friday, its seems like yesterday, there is nothing that fills that void, my memories are all i have but i know you are at peace, though it does not make it better. I raise the boys to always include you in their prayers each night, David has been crying alot this week he knows, it effected Austin last night, I reassure them of how you are with God and flying like a bird thru the universe and happy with laughter, We will never ever forget your precious love.

Erin 1 year has gone and it feels like yesterday, nothing gets easier because I see your reflection in the faces of our sons. You left to early in this world but you arrived on time to your destination to the Lord. It's so hard but I know you our with us. We love you and we grieve you. I know you look beautiful amongst the angels.

“ Erin you are and will always be the love of my life. I know I could never find nor love anyone like you. I am your husband, and during our time apart I will still be your husband, and my love will remain loyal unto you until I hold you once again. Amber, David, and Austin, had a mother of unconditional love. A mother of compassion, and care. Your children love you, today, tomorrow, until eternity. When you left us I want you to know you opened many doors for us to open, and some of us, me in particular, now see and feel what words you could never speak. I choose to remember how you loved and lived, and that in itself is paradise. We love you and will forever miss you sweetheart, rest well knowing, these things that are not words Erin, but love engraved, there is hope, faith, and love, and the greatest one of these is love. Until I see your beauty again. I love you.
