“ I have many fond memories of things when we were younger with Gail. Rollerskating in Surfside Park with the old fashion roller skates that clamped onto our shoes with a key.

Going out to the marsh by where the old ice house once was to get cranberries and all those wild blueberries and wild strawberries that no longer exist where we went because it is now all houses. My thoughts are with her family and her sisters at this sad time. Just remember she is watching over you with Sondra and her parents free of pain. I know it is hard but hope this will bring some comfort to you all.
