

James Cleophile St, Amand

January 15, 1930 - November 2, 2015

Newington, NH - James Cleophile St. Amand passed away peacefully this past Monday, November 2, 2015.

Jimmy was born January 15, 1930 in Ludlow, Massachusetts. He grew up in Indian Orchard and Goshen, Massachusetts. James graduated from the US Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, NY in 1955, and studied at Bradley University in Engineering and The Stockbridge School of Agriculture in forestry.

In addition to several other corporations, he worked as a Design Engineer for over 20 years with General Motors in Rochester, NY where he received many patents for original designs.

In August of 1955 he was wed to Martha Lee Bach, at the Navy Chapel in St. Albans, NY. They celebrated their 60th anniversary this past August.

Jim's relationship with God was the stronghold of his life. He is widely known for his wit, kindness, and generosity to all who knew him.

James leaves behind his wife, Martha Lee, two daughters and their spouses, Martha Sue Roy and Paul Roy of Bow, NH, Melissa Ann Hoeldtke and Jonathan Hoeldtke of Woodstown, NJ and three grandchildren, Liesl, Jeannine and Henrik.

A Memorial Service to celebrate Jim's life will be held at 11:00 am on Saturday, November 7, 2015 at Newington Old Town Hall, 336 Nimble Hill Road, Newington, NH. In lieu of flowers, please donate to a Salvation Army Red Kettle this Christmas.

“ Martha and Mrs. Cleophile,
I am so sorry to hear about his passing. It will be very difficult times coming up. And when you least expect it, a smell, a place that you are at, or a memory will just pop up and you'll have to run away. That is ok. And always remember you are not alone. The best thing my mom has done is to talk to others who have lost a husband (and me a dad). She has much comfort in knowing that what she is experiencing is truly normal. "One day at a time", the daily mantra.
