“ Joe was a true gentleman and a neighbor. Like clockwork he went to get his Boston Globe daily at 9 AM at the little store across the street, always taking the stairs up and down, to and fro from his second floor unit. He was remarkably independent, dressed in pressed chinos, a stylish shirt, and always with a friendly smile. We will miss him at Ocean Crest!

Sincerest condolences to the family. Joe's mother was my mother's first cousin so and I were 2nd cousins. We never go to meet but when seeing his obituary in the Tribune I wanted to express the sympathies of our family.
