“ It was evident that Lars genuinely cared about things that were important to him, such as his family, friends, coworkers and work in producing high quality food, customer service and veterans affairs. He had a light within him that shone through in his kind eyes, warm smile, upbeat personality and storytelling. I feel honored to have known and worked with him. My thoughts and prayers are with his family, friends and my coworkers during this difficult time. It is not everyday you meet someone as special as Lars, and he will be missed. His legacy will live on through the lives he positively affected.

“ Lars was more than my manager at Hobbs Brook he was a friend he was a person who cared about his people even if it meant putting his own job on the line. When I had surgery he personally came to my home with dinner or groceries or whatever was needed. He did the same for many other co-workers he was always there for us. He will be missed by myself and many others words can not express the pain I and all are feeling. I hope Lars is in a happy place now love you Lars and God bless your family.

When I was a little girl, my uncle spent the night on Christmas Eve. When I woke up he told me all about his night time adventure with Santa.

As I unwrapped my presents I discovered a small gift from my uncle. It had to be good, right? Santa wouldn't let me down...

Well. It was a chicken bone and some hair from my hair brush. And I spent all day wondering why Santa and my uncle decided to give me this gift. Although, I was the lucky one. My sisters got a dirty pair of gym socks and a pizza box full of cigarette butts. That evening after a whole day of confusion, as my uncle left he slipped us each $5 and said Merry Christmas.

THE WHOLE DAY. That's dedication.

I attribute most of my early seeds of sarcasm to this man. And boy did they ever grow.

That was my Uncle Lars. As of today, I will carry on his sarcastic legacy with honor.

Great man.

Also he told me once that the lady on the Vermont Maid maple syrup bottle was his girlfriend, and I believed him for about two years until my mom corrected me.
