“ Aw gram, I'm gonna miss running into you it always brightened my day! As much as wed test your patience you'd be our taxi, chef, nurse, and the referee when needed! Thats who you have always been and every time we'd catch up I know that hasn't changed you gave so much love and took care of everyone you loved til the end and I'm glad your last memory before going to heaven was being surrounded by people who love you. I have no doubt that Keith and your husband were there waiting on you to surround you with more. Rest in the sweetest peace, you of all people deserve it.

“ Oh Linda , Lindy Lou

I'm jealous of heaven at the moment for taking such a great woman from us all . I won't lie losing you is like losing my very own grandmother . You've known me for such a long time , thru good times and in bad times and you never posted a judging finger my way . You were a rock to everyone a foundation that welcomed everyone with open loving arms . I keep telling myself that Keith needed you more than we did so heaven called an angel . Linda you were such a blessing to know and more of a blessing to have been loved by you . I have missed you so very much at Dunks but when I got the news of your passing the wind in my world changed , there is some kind of something missing and making me off . I think I'm having a harder time than I thought with you leaving . To the only woman who would tell me when I was doing wrong and how I AM going to fix it to the woman who never lied to me even when she knew it would hurt , to the hard working woman always giving 110% , to the woman who put others first , to the woman who loved myself and my family as it was her very own and treated our littles as her own . There will never be another you I don't care how hard anybody tries, there is never no way anybody's heart could be as pure and as genuine as yours . I can't say goodbye because we don't do that here , so see ya later on down the line . Give little Greg love for me . Keep watching over all of us and keep us in your guided path . I hate ending this I really do . Lindy you old I love you and I know you will be laughing at that nobody has to like it (it was mine and Linda's friendship joke and always said it to each other) I cherish every single day I got to work with you , joke with you , talk shit with you and just gossip about everyone . You will never be forgotten . Love this little
