

Lucille J. Washburn

November 11, 1925 - October 28, 2013

Lucille J. Washburn

Amesbury, MA - Lucille Joyce Washburn, 87, formerly of North Hampton, NH, died Monday, October 28, 2013 at Maplewood Care Center.

She was born in North Hampton, NH, November 11, 1925, a daughter of the late Clarence and Doris (Woodburn) Marston.

Lucille was an artist who loved making arrangements with everything from flowers and paint, to her own clothing. She was a member of the Elliot Garden Club and the Kittery Art Association. She loved redesigning clothes into her own fashion statement.

She is survived by her son and daughter-in-law, Stephen and Naomi Washburn, of Nampa, ID; her grandchildren, Carolyn Dutcher, Everett Cussins and Matthew Washburn, of Nampa, ID and her great and great great grandchildren. She also leaves her brothers and sisters, Clarence Marston of Branford CT, Walter Marston, Dorothea Silver, Floyd Marston, Shirley Whenal, Ralph Marston and Judy Smith of NH and MA and Brenda Carter and Keith Marston, both of FL.

In addition to her parents, Lucille was predeceased by her brothers, George

Marston and Richard Marston and her sisters Gloria Hanley and Rosemary Verno.

A graveside service will be held at 10:00 am on Saturday, November 2, 2013 in the Center Cemetery, North Hampton. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited.

Previous Events

Graveside Service

NOV 2. 10:00 AM (ET)

Center Cemetery
186 Post Road
North Hampton, NH 03862

Tribute Wall

“ Lucille J. Washburn

September 18, 2022 at 12:49 AM

“ Donna Miller lit a candle in memory of Lucille J. Washburn

Donna Miller - November 07, 2013 at 11:32 AM

“ I met Lucille about 10 years ago, and always loved our conversations as she strolled through town. We shared a love of funky jewelry and accessories, and I was always amazed that even we she was "just popping out to do some errands", she looked like a million bucks. Lucille always had time for a chat, and was genuinely interested in what you had to say. She was a true beauty inside and out, and will be missed. My thoughts go out to her family.

Laura Hartman - November 02, 2013 at 01:22 PM

“ *So sorry for your loss! I only met her once in Idaho while we were both visiting. She was a beautiful lady and so friendly!
Love and sympathy to the family
Della Carmean*

Della Carmean - November 01, 2013 at 06:25 PM

LR

“ Share a memory of Lucille J. Washburn, or send a condolence to the family...

Lori Novak Reed - October 31, 2013 at 01:57 PM

BC

“ Brenda Carter lit a candle in memory of Lucille J. Washburn

Brenda Carter - October 30, 2013 at 09:40 PM

CU

“ Cheryl Upperman lit a candle in memory of Lucille J. Washburn

Cheryl Upperman - October 30, 2013 at 08:39 AM

CU

“ I remember the house in Portsmouth too. The attack cat she had, Never knew when it would strike. I also remember that little Ford Thunderbird she had. Loved that car. Was and still is my dream car. She definitely had the movie star look down pat. Always perfectly dressed. Cheryl Upperman

Cheryl Upperman - October 30, 2013 at 08:38 AM

SM

“ As I said, earlier today, Aunt Lucille was truly an original "fashionista" long before anyone's advertising campaign. Always lovely, always 'dressed to the nines" as the old saying goes, she'd arrive at our home at Christmas when my sister and I were little, looking like a movie star. I still have two bracelets she gave to me back then. I remember going to the Washburn home, a beautiful example of Japanese architecture, surrounded by amazing Asian plants and trees, complete with a unique wooden bridge. And, like most of my cousins, I loved swinging in the nifty chair, suspended from the living room ceiling! But especially, beyond that material beauty, I'll always recall her inquiring mind, her enthusiastic and eclectic sense of fascination with the world and all its wonder. She certainly was one-of-a-kind! Sandra V. Marston

Sandra V. Marston - October 29, 2013 at 04:06 PM

Stephen Washburn

“ 1 file added to the tribute wall

Stephen Washburn - October 29, 2013 at 02:03 PM