“ Nick was a great friend, someone who was there for me when I needed him most. He was a shoulder to lean on, and ear to listen, and a heart to comfort. I will never forget ordering $30 of taco bell with him and feasting away while we relaxed. I will greatly miss him until we can meet again.

“ *Dear Paul,

Our deepest condolences go out to you and your family. Nick seems to have been the son that we all wish to had. In the short time he was with us on this Earth, Nick affected the lives of more people than most others do over an entire lifetime. Please know that your work family supports you here as well.*

“ Paul, Kris, Daniel and Thomas,

Nick touched the lives of so many in his short but valiant life; I am one of those people. It is in each of us, through our memories and what we learned from him, and how we implement his qualities of being genuine, caring, loving, enjoying the victory of playing a good game whether on the field or on a board, dedicated at whatever it was he was doing at the time, that will be his legacy. I will never forget him, his loving nature and listening ear. I am sad to see him go but when I think of this I take comfort in remembering one my most favorite poems.

"A Parable of Immortality" by Henry van Dyke.

*I am standing by the seashore.
A ship at my side spreads her white sails to the morning breeze
and starts for the blue ocean.
She is an object of beauty and strength,
and I stand and watch
until at last she hangs like a speck of white cloud just where the sun and sky come down to mingle with each other.*

*Then someone at my side says, 'There she goes!
Gone where? Gone from my sight - that is all.*

*She is just as large in mast and hull and spar
as she was when she left my side
and just as able to bear her load of living freight
to the places of destination.
Her diminished size is in me, not in her.*

*And just at the moment when someone at my side says,
'There she goes! ',
there are other eyes watching her coming,
and other voices ready to take up the glad shout :
'Here she comes!'*

One day when it is our time to cross that vaste ocean of death and the ones we leave behind say "there she goes", I know that Nick will be on the other side with our other loved ones saying "here she comes".

All My Love,
