

Patricia Powers

April 28, 1949 - August 26, 2014

Epping - Patricia Powers, 65, of Epping, died Tuesday, August 26th, 2014, after a sudden illness.

She was born in New York City on April 28, 1949 and was raised in Edison New Jersey. She was the older of two daughters to the late Benjamin and Mary (Ryan) Powers. Her former marriage to Clark Weeber of Galveston TX brought her only child, Dawn Marie into this world.

She lived in New Jersey most of her life. She held many jobs to give her daughter the things she wanted and needed, but probably her favorite job was working at the nursery in Chesterfield, NJ. Her love for all things that grow was with her all her life. Her gardens were always admired by all. Her passion for horticulture will live on through her beautiful sister Joanne, and her loving only daughter Dawn Marie. Her love for gardening was seconded by her love for cats. Living in New Jersey farm country she had many opportunities to rescue stray cats and nurse them back to loving animals.

She had always visited the New England Area through her life as her sister Joanne resides in Salisbury Mass., and her daughter Dawn resides in North Hampton. Her dream was to once live here to be close to her family and grandchildren.

She finally moved to Epping in 2012 after the end of a very long battle with cancer that claimed her husband Bob Comins. Her love and dedication to him were something admired by all who knew them. Needless to say his passing left an open space in her heart which her surviving family tried to fill every day. And fill they did, she had some of her happiest times in Epping. She transformed her home from a fixer upper to a beautiful property with her gardening skills. She took many trips with her family and was rarely absent from sporting or school events of her grandchildren.

She leaves behind her surviving family who will love and miss her every day of their lives: her daughter, Dawn Bailey and her husband Eric of North Hampton, grandchildren, Peyton, Kyle and Allison, her sister and best friend, Joanne O'Blenes and her husband Wayne of Salisbury Mass., and their children Graci, Sarah, and Matthew. She also leaves behind numerous friends from New Jersey and New Hampshire.

Visiting hours will be from 6-8 P.M. Friday, August 29, 2014 at the Remick & Gendron Funeral Home-Crematory, 811 Lafayette Road, Hampton. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited. In lieu of flowers donations may be made to the New Hampshire S.P.C.A., P. O. Box 196, Stratham, NH 03885.

“ I knew Pat since her and my brother Bob first met in the 80's, and there are many memories we shared throughout the years, but the one that keeps coming back to me was the last time I saw Pat. I rode my bike to her house in Epping last September and spent the weekend. She was a proud homeowner and was really putting the “Pat” stamp on the house both inside and out and was in her element giving me the tour from the basement up. Saturday we took Bob's ashes and rode up to the Kancamagus Highway in the White Mountains. Pat spread Bob's ashes as we rode this beautiful stretch of roadway. The weather was perfect we had a great day. She told me how much she missed riding with Bob, and if there are Harleys in heaven I have a good idea what Bob and Pat are up to right now. Words seem woefully inept to express the gratitude I will always feel for the way not only Pat but the rest of her family as well made Bob one of their own, loving, caring, and supporting him through all the years he struggled with his disease-thank you and my deepest condolences to you all.

“ Pat, my Wildflower Friend, you moved into the house next door.....I met you right after I was diagnosed with cancer. We connected. Come to find out we were one day apart in age, you had lost your Bob to cancer before moving to NH from NJ; to be closer to your daughter and family.

What fun we have had remodeling and figuring out what you wanted in your home. We have gone to lunch, out antiquing and you helped me with my gardening. Together we have invaded each other's privacy and giggled like school girls as we tip toed into other's yards to sneak dead flowers (for the seeds) to plant later. We had an date together today for a trip up the road with a shovel to steal some wildflowers from some old property and then out to lunch, lol. The other day you told me you loved me as your friend and was so glad that you moved here, that you were in this wonderful neighborhood and that you & I had become such good friends, its like we have known each other forever, we click.

I will not be able to see your face when our wildflowers bloom next year but I know you will be smiling & jumping for joy that they came up along with all the other flowers you worked so hard on this year.

Bless you Pat and thank you for being my friend, I will really miss you but every time I look at my garden out back, I will remember you, our good times together and smile.

Soar with the Angels my wildflower friend.

Love,

Dawn O'Neill

“ Pat was a woman of tremendous love and strength, which was abundantly evident in her care for Bob. I know that she found peace in her new home in Epping and was so very happy to be near her family after losing Bob. I hope that her family will find comfort in cherished memories and know that she lives on in them always.
