“ I got to know Priscilla when we were both members of the Hampton Monday Club, a civic club with a 90-year history that closed in 2007. I remember well the memories she shared with me of her first widowhood and post-WWII experiences. She was such a smart, strong woman, the kind of role model we all hope to be for others. Condolences to her family and friends.

“ To the family: A lovely lady who is perhaps the last of the old town of Hampton families. I knew her since she "babysat" for me back in the late 30's as I lived on Dearborn Avenue and she lived across the cemetery on Mill Road at her family's florist business. I also remember the tragedy of her husband's passing during WWII as it was a blow to our small community at the time. She was very well respected for her business abilities and community activities. May she rest in peace.
