

Robert C. Hill, Jr.

January 7, 1948 - May 4, 2021

Kingston - It is with deep sadness that we announce the death of Robert C. Hill, Jr., 73 of Kingston. Robert passed away at the High Point House in Haverhill, MA with his wife, Cheryl, at his side.

Bob was currently retired, but has worked as a design draftsman, owner of Classics North Auto Sales and auto body restoration specialist.

He was born in Methuen MA to the late Robert C. and Gladys (Miller) Hill. He and his sister grew up in Mass., California, and New Hampshire. As an adult he lived in NH, South Carolina and Florida.

He leaves behind his wife of 43 years, Cheryl (Henderson) Hill of Kingston, his son, Gregory A. Hill of Madbury, three daughters; Amanda M. Hill-Golden of Williston Fl., Stephanie A. Hill of Gainesville, Fl, and Rachael M. Hill of Williston, FL, his sister Darlene Pinkham and family of Clermont, Fl. and several grandchildren; Alyssa and Nicolas Hill, Jada Bartlett, JJ and Areyanna Golden, Pheonix Rigdon and Tylor Sheffield and several cousins.

There will be no service at this time, although a private gathering may be held at a later date.

I met Bob several years ago and was glad to call him my friend. He helped me restore two antique vehicles and I will think of him every time I drive them. He will be missed.
