“ I am so sorry to hear of Sandra's passing. Although we never met, we were 3rd cousins who shared a a passion for family history. I will always treasure her many stories of our ancestors and I will greatly miss corresponding with her. She was a wonderful lady. Leslie Poole

She enjoyed your emails, Leslie. I found them printed out, many with handwritten notes preparing her reply. The one thing she loved more than researching was sharing her findings. Thank you.

“ Years ago I asked my Mom about being a Foster Mother, and having to say good-bye to 27 children as they each left our home. Most of them returned to very unfortunate circumstances, and it made me feel sad, or even angry.

In her wisdom, she said that she was glad for whatever time they lived with us, because they now know what it feels like to live in a loving home, even if it's for a short time. She said that although it is sad when they leave, she also felt glad they had a chance to thrive and reach their full potential during the time they were part of our family.

Now as I say goodbye to a wonderful woman, it makes me feel sad, or even angry because she suffered in so much pain recently. Reflecting her wisdom, I will be glad for the lifetime we shared, and because of her, her descendants thrive and can reach our full potential. Love you, Mom!
