“ Rod and Shaun, So sad to hear of Sherri's passing. Sweet, Sweet Girl with always a warm and welcoming beautiful smile and how she beamed with happiness when talking to us about her beautiful children, those pictures she displayed at her workplace were always something to behold and look forward to seeing the changes as they grew, I can't believe she won't be there to welcome us again and speak of her children, we will certainly miss her. I can't imagine the sorrow you all feel with the loss of Sherri.

“ Rod and Shaun,
We were so shocked and so sad when we read about Sheri's passing. She was such a kind and caring person, with an infectious smile and laugh! She always made us feel welcome whether on the phone or when we dropped the car off. We always chatted about family- how she loved her family!! She was a friend and will be missed. Cannot even imagine the loss you must feel. What a tragic loss at such a young age.

“ I went to junior high and high school with Sheri (I always called her Booker). I remember her as always warm and sincere. She had a great sense of humor and a way of sitting to the side of the teenage drama/who's popular b.s.--I really admired that.

I crossed paths with her a couple of times this summer when Bookers Garage painted my car. She lit up when she told me about her kids.

She's one of the good ones. Seemed like she knew what was important from the start.

“ There is no text block big enough for our lifetime of shared memories... those two girls from Winnicut Road grew up- had babies and were there for one another... but now one of them is gone...

Joey, Brandon and Bri- your Mom loved you more than anything in this world!! If you ever feel her memory fading away please let me know and I will tell you more about a thousand hours spent swimming, riding snow machines, playing in the camper, dreaming about having our own babies, bike riding (she saved my life once-good story!), or talking life and most of all -about you 3... I was thrilled to take care of her when you were born at Exeter Hospital and she glowed everytime- you were her world. If there were words that could comfort you, I would say them- but there aren't... just know she was loved and will never be forgotten... - Kim
