

Stephen C. Del Viscio

December 20, 1956 - January 26, 2023

Seabrook - Stephen Del Viscio passed away peacefully in his sleep at his home in Seabrook on Thursday, January 26th, 2023 at the age of 66. He was born in Philadelphia, PA to the late Vincent L and Juliana Del Viscio.

Steve leaves his loving wife of 38 years, Mary Del Viscio and his two children, Skye and Max Del Viscio; as well as his sister Chris Montis, his brothers Jim and Vincent Del Viscio, Max's fiancé Olee Poirier, and his treasured friends Justin Oullette and Hugo Mendez Morcate, Mary and Martin Orloski, Fred Boudreau and Clarence Jones. He is predeceased by his brother Thomas Del Viscio.

In addition to Pennsylvania, Steve also grew up in New Jersey, North Carolina, and Florida and went to college in Tucson, AZ. He spent his youth traveling the country, spending time with his family and friends and exploring his passions for art and music before settling in Seabrook, NH when he met his wife. As an artist, he illustrated 6 children's books. He had a variety of jobs throughout his life, including working at a Photomat, the Salisbury Beach Playland and as a truck driver, but his proudest role was as a husband and a father.

Steve was a very silly and loving person. He was a master joke teller and loved to make up silly songs that would get stuck in everyone's heads. He loved making art and found a lot of joy in encouraging the artistic endeavors of his friends and family. He was most at peace in nature, whether that was on walks on the beach, trips up to the White Mountains, or relaxing by his fire pit. He loved discovering new music and loved listening to it with his speakers cranked up as far as they could go. Most of all, he loved spending time with his loved ones, chatting with them for hours on the phone, going out with them to restaurants or movies, or enjoying their company at his house.

“ Steve was my friend. We shared many laughs together. I always enjoyed his special sense of humor. More recently we would just chat on the phone, telling the same stories and jokes and laughing at all the right places. I am saddened by him being gone. My sincere condolences go to his family, Mary, Max, and Skye.

“ Steve was a part of my life since we were both teenagers! He turns up in our lives every day via memories, and things he used to say. There was a special chuckle he had that has become part of our family lexicon on a daily basis. I'll miss his phone calls, his points of view, and his resiliency in dealing with a life that was often difficult. He was a special friend for many years and I'm sorry he's gone.

My brother Steve was a gentle, kind, compassionate, and generous soul, despite having every reason to be bitter and uncaring because of the many emotional and physical problems he experienced throughout his life, beginning with our mother's death when he was only 5. Even as he grew older and had to deal with countless medical problems he managed to maintain his great sense of humor and optimistic outlook on life. He was a very gifted artist, but put his creative ambitions aside, when it came to caring for his wife and children. What most impressed me about Steve was that he chose to drive a truck up and down the Northeast, often for 60 to 80 hours a week, for more than two and a half decades, in order to be able to adequately take care of the economic needs of his family. I love Steve, and will miss him deeply, but the best I can hope for is that his spirit remains strong with all those who he has touched, that we all smile, laugh a little more, and are kinder to each other, when we think of him.
