“ Travis came to David's 40th birthday party at the Rockingham Ballroom. When they played a tango, he came up and asked me to dance. I asked if he knew how to tango and he replied "Heck, no! But we can figure it out!" We did a very awkward tango around the floor, laughing the whole time." It is a great memory of Travis' "Carpe Diem" spirit. RIP Travis. Love, Laura and David Bilodeau

“ Travis, a person is given the gift of life at birth. Your time on this earth you lived to the fullest, loved with an open heart, & left your passion of your trade for all of us to remember your legacy. I will always remember our unexpected run ends. Where our 10 minute catch up, felt like a lifetime of laughs. Just yesterday you were sending our lifelong friend Dana, off with farwell fireworks. Never knowing your journey was coming to an end. I hope you shine bright in that sky for your children & family to remember your soul. Travis, you are amongst friends up there. RIP

“ I had the opportunity to collaborate with Travis on a few projects and will always be thankful to have been able to make a small contribution to his artistic vision. It was always a thrill to get a text from him saying, hey Bill, what do you think about this. You will be missed, my friend.
