“ It's already been a year without your hugs, you aggravating me, talking to you for hours on the phone, laying around watching tv, going for rides, getting your advice, hearing you say "i love you babe"... I miss you so much dad and I want you to come home more than anything... This is killing me... I love you

“ I miss you Dad every second of every day. Not having you here is the hardest thing I've ever gone through in my life and it always will be. It's not fair, I just want my best friend to come home. I hate this so much. I feel like my whole heart got taken away from me the day you died. No one will ever understand the relationship that me and you had. It wasn't perfect, but it was pretty close. You taught me so much in the 23 years that I had you with me, and I am so thankful for that. Someday when I have kids I hope I am half as good of a parent as you were to me, and I can teach them all the things you taught me. It kills me that you will never get to see me get married or have kids of my own. The thought of getting married and not having you there to walk me down the aisle literally rips my heart out. I know you are with me every day dad. I can feel it. I miss you so much more than anyone realizes. It eats at me every second of every day, but I make myself get out of bed and do things because that's what you would want. You always told me "When Dad dies don't be upset. You need to go on with your life. Don't sit around and cry." And I'd ALWAYS start crying as soon as you said it cause even the thought of you dying broke my heart. I'd always ask you "How can you tell me not to be upset? Of course I'm gonna be upset! If I died wouldn't you be upset and just sit around and cry?" And you'd ALWAYS say "No I wouldn't sit around and cry. If anything happened to you, I'd be going right after you." And then I'd cry some more and you'd tell me "Don't cry babe Dads not going anywhere. I'll always be with you." I can't even tell you how much I miss just watching tv with you, or our random conversations we would have, or your hugs that made me feel like nothing in this world could ever hurt me, I would do anything in this world for one more hug from you. I miss going out on the boat with you, riding around in the trucks, puttering around the house, I just miss everything dad. I want you to come home so bad, and I know you never are. I hate it. Youll always be my number 1, and I'll always be your little girl no matter what. I will always love you more than anything in this world. You will always have my whole entire heart with you. And just know every second of every day I am missing you so much!!

Thanks Nicole I just saw this now... I am having an extremely hard time dealing with this. It's the hardest thing I have ever and will ever go through. But somehow, someway, I'm still here dealing with it all. I know without a doubt that a lot of it is him pushing me through it, and I thank god everyday for that cause I couldn't do it alone. Thanks for everything Nicole I'll never forget it. You truly are an amazing person. ??

“ Sam, Susan&Mandy I am so sorry for your loss. Bill is such a good person and along with you guys I am going to miss him very much. I sit here and think of all the different memories we shared some funny some serious. I remember all the times he would come in me and Mandys room and tell us he made apple crisp. He made it perfect every time. I am so sad this is happening it doesn't even seem real. He was to young to go he had a life ahead of him but I guess god had different plans for him. Just know he will be looking down on you all and guiding you in the right direction. I am here for all of you if you need anything. You are like family to me and I love you guys very much.
